

CONTEMPORARY HEAVY SNIPER RIFLES

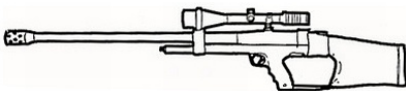

If you're a bear, a modern Lucky Luke, a tank that no classic bullet can stops, that's what they'll use against you. The C-Swat, the armed forces, the corporatist militias are all well equipped with these weapons for typical military use (don't look for them in your favorite armory, they are illegal). Killing your target on first try, no matter how well protected, or stopping a vehicle a kilometer away is what one can expect from this type of toy.

An extremely heavy anti-material rifle, this gun uses a recoil system similar to that seen on light artillery where the entire barrel will slide backwards into the rifle body. Because of this, the shooter will feel no more kick than if they were using a large-bore hunting rifle. Designed to break into two sections for transport. Extra barrel systems included allowing the weapons to use .50 and 14.5 mm S calibers, making this weapon one of the most flexible sniping systems on the market today.
